Transport, Accommodation and other Logistics

Transport Airport – City

There are several ways from and to the Vienna airport:

- The City Airport Train (CAT) runs every 30 minutes (from 6.06 a.m. to 11.36 p.m.) and takes you to "Wien-Mitte" in 16 minutes (one way ticket: € 11, return ticket € 17), from where you can take the metro line U3 (direction Ottakring) to Stephansplatz (city centre) in two stops.
- A normal train marked S for "Schnellbahn" also takes you to "Wien-Mitte" in 25 minutes (one way ticket € 4, allows use of all metro lines, busses and trams in Vienna on same day). Tickets are available from vending machines at the station which accept credit cards, bank cards and cash.
- The Airport bus takes you to Schwedenplatz in 20 minutes and runs every 30 minutes (one way ticket € 8, return ticket € 13), from where you can take the metro line U1 (direction Reumannplatz) to Stephansplatz in one stop.
- A cab would cost around € 40.- In rush hours it will also take up to 30 minutes.

Transport Train stations - City

Arriving by train at "Westbahnhof", you can take the metro line U3 (direction Simmering) to Stephansplatz (city centre) in 5 stops.

Arriving by train at "Wien-Meidling", you can take the metro line U6 (direction Floridsdorf) to Westbahnhof (4 stops) and change to metro line U3 (direction Simmering) to Stephansplatz (see above).

Public transport

Tickets can be bought at vending machines in all metro stations and are valid for all public transport means in Vienna (metro, tram, bus) A one-way-ticket is € 2.00. For more frequent rides it is recommended to buy a 24 hours ticket at € 6.70, a 48 hours ticket at € 11.70 or a 72 hours ticket at € 14.50.

Transport City centre – Vienna International Centre

The conference will take place at the United Nations in the Vienna International Centre (VIC), Wagramerstrasse 5, 1220 Vienna, outside the city centre.
